Early returns in North Dakota's presidential primary election today showed Goxernor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, gaining on Governor W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, of Oklahoma, in the contest for the state's democratica presidential preference votes.

Returns from 141 precincts out of 2,235 give Roosevelt 3,630; Murray 2,147. These returns; however, were primarily from the cities, while Murray is considered stronger in the ru-

RAIL LINE ACQUITTED

IN SERVICE DISPUTE MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 15 .- (AP) The St. Louis Southwestern railroad today was acquitted in United States district court here of charges contained in two indictments that it vio-lated interstate commerce commission regulations with its "door-to-door" freight system.

As a means of getting more business, the railroad instituted the practice of hauling freight from a shipper to its terminal and from the terminal at the destination to the consignee. When the railroad used its own trucks, no charge was made for the service. When other trucks were used the railroads sometimes paid the hauling charges directly and at other times returned the money to shippers.

It was Dial who arose in the jury box, when Mrs. Carson offered to bare her knee, and told the judge:

Under the direction of the Atlanta post of the American Legion, acting in conjunction with the nationwide campaign being sponsored by the Legion, civic, fraternal and business organizations, the number of unemployed has been substantially reduced, and the prospects are that the 2,000 mark will be reached within the next week or 10 days, it was said.

ONLY 23 SALARIES OF 'HEADLINE' SIZE IN MOVIE RANKS

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(UP) There are only 23 "headline" salaries being paid among 25,000 Hollywood actors and actresses, Conrad Nagel, vice president of the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences, said here today.

He didn't name the highly paid stars, but described a "headline" salary as the "amount which, plus an added cipher or two, make startling news stories or material for a certain type of radio gossiper."

Speaking at the banquet concluding the twelfth annual convention of the Motion Picture Owners of America, Nagel said he headed the Motion Pictures Refief Fund for Unemployed, and asked all salaried people in the industry to contribute one-half of one per cent of their salaries each week.

"I was permitted to examine the salary lists of the various studios," he said. "To my amazement, I found that with 25,000 registered actors and actresses in Hollywood, there are actually only 23 drawing 'headline' salaries."

He contrasted this with recent internal revenue reports that 276 men and women outside of the industry reported incomes in excess of one million dollars a year.

Key told voters of Atlanta that if they permitted him to be repudiated at the polls, he would not be a candidate to succeed himself in the election for a mayor, but would leave the field open to his opponents to select anyone they wished.

His victory precludes any election for his successor at the present time at least, and his large majority will be a warning against further recall attempts, it is believed. Key will complete his term without molestation, it was indicated, because of the colossal failure of the joint forces of prohibition and labor to oust him.

The very few physicians who have had the courage to enter upon the practice of proctology as a specialty are somehow not so discernible as are the brass specialists in the profession today. Sometimes I think these reputable specialists are just too modest about letting the public and even the general profession know what they are doing. That sort of modesty comes perilously near being false modesty, prudery, and it is high time that the man on the street and perhaps his family physician were informed that the study of diseases of the rectum (proctology) is at least as of the men carried one section of the extension ladder, later found abandoned. # MAKING A LEGAL WILL May Save Money for Your Heirs

Statistics show that the average percentage of the shrinkage in estates (which means losses to heirs) is considerably less under well planned legal Wills, drawn by attorneys, than in the absence of a Will.

When distribution is arranged in advance in a Will, following out a well-devised estate plan, measures can be taken, for example, to avoid the sacrifice of assets in depressed markets to pay debts, taxes and settlement costs. Protection can also be arranged for certain heirs, inexperienced in investing, who in the absence of a Will would receive property outright.

Our Trust Department will be glad to outline for you, without obligation, a distribution plan for consideration by you and your attorney. This plan will include such money-saving suggestions as may be found useful in your case. It will not alter in any way your present wishes 'or your heirs and its preparation will take only that amount of your time as is necessary to give us the facts.

Our new booklet, "The Business of Leaving Your Property-Economically," gives information which may be of value to you. May we give you a copy?

Work of Players in First Game Pleases Manager Barron.

By Jimmy Jones.

The boys couldn't contain them-selves any longer so yesterday "Red" Barron told them (the Crackers) to choose sides and play a ball game. The sun was shining brighter and the temperature was rising when "the Carlyles" took the field against "the Rosenthals."

The result was a five-inning practice game—the first of the year which the Carlyles won by a score of which the Carlyles won by a score of 5 to 1.

A prodigious batting spree in the third inning, during which Hal Bejin and Duck McKee belted out successive two-baggers, saw the Carlyles punch over three runs off Lou Garland, the big right-hander from Texas, and cinch the abbreviated contest.

BARRON PLEASED. Although it was the first effort, he teams performed in a manner that was more than pleasing to Mauager Barron.

It was still cold and of course the the as self cold and of course the players couldn't cut loose with everything, but now and then the pitchers showed the batters a wrinkle to look at. Rosenthal played three innings at first base and didn't look badly at all. In fact, it seems that Si may develop into a first-baseman after all. He didn't have any chances on ground balls but handled himself fairly well otherwise.

Neither Johnny Chapman nor Johnny Morrison were in uniform. Morrison was unable to practice because of a painfully abscessed ear. He was excused from work by Barron.

Chapman has failed to reach an agreement with "Chick" Roos on salary and did not sign his contract yesterday. He will not be allowed to practice with the Crackers until he comes to terms. The third baseman has been working indoors, pending his decision to sign up. PLAY TECH TODAY.

GREAT RECORD.

The notable feats of Mr. Catfish Smith since he scored 15 points against Yale in 1929 would fill a large-sized encyclopaedin and would take too long to tell. As a baseball player he has won many a ball game with home runs or solid, safe knocks in crucial moments. He has also made some very daring plays in the outfield. The Rube now has centered his The Rube now has centered his attention on young Lefty Carrithers, the University of Georgia southpaw. Carrithers has been pitching from a semi-sidearm delivery. The result was that he was frequently off balance after completing the pitch and found it hard to field his position.

Now Marquard has Carrithers shooting the ball overfland and believes he ig the ball overhand and believes he will be twice as effective. He also has fired the youngster with the idea of becoming more serious and keeping his ears open for tips dropped by the older pitchers. OPTIMISTIC.

"You want to get to the big leagues, don't you?" the Rube asked him. Carrithers replied that he did and promised to settle down.

So it looks as if Marquard knows what he is about when he says the pitchers will be up to snuff.

The Rube also is optimistic about the rest of the team. He thinks the club will have plenty of batting with hitters like Barnes, Carlyle, Chapman and Rosenthal in the lineup. He figured Johnny O'Connell will drive in lots of home runs from the lower end lots of home runs from the lower end of the batting order and that Eddie Roetz will fool a lot of people with his hitting. As for Bobby Goff, the Rube says he is a tricky little man in the lead-off role and a whale of a fielder. Sammy Strang was one of the first of the crack college ball players to take up the pro grame. At that time Fred Tenney, of Brown, was one of the outstanding ex-college stars. Christy Mathewson, of Bucknell, was another to gather enduring fame. Chief Bender, of Carlisle, and Eddie Plank, of Gettysburg, were then unknown. Today the majority of big leaguers are ex-college ball players. At least 50 per cent are. Strang Nicklin, like Frank Frisch and a few others, starred on both the gridiron and the diahas a great disposition for this part of the manager's job, too. It will take shrewd psychology to bring Hack Wilson back to the peak, if his slump was only a temperamental one. But Brooklyn should certainly benefit from Carey's sagacity.

In Washington last season Walter ohnson had some words with Fred farberry, and became so displeased Marberry, and became so displeased with Bump Hadler's work that the latter served only in a relief role through most of the season, turning Fans are sometimes driven to doubting the tales of managerial diffi-culties on ball games. They think that most of the professional ball players are in the mature class, and in the game as a business, and should "act their age." Such recurring topics for discussion as the Hornsby-Wilson and Hornsby-Grimes feuds.

Wilson and Hornsby-Grimes feuds, real or fancied, don't get a ready ear from these impatient fans.

But looking at the matter from another angle, isn't it far more reasonable that flare-ups between player and manager should occur amongst older men than on school or college teams, where the coach has clearly the benefit of experience and power? You take a seasoned ball player, who has been through the mill for years, and have him run into a slump or encounter difficulties, which the manager does not seem to sense, and bad blood can spurt quickly. Then, too, you can always hear the grumble of the veteran fans who wish there was more pugnacity in the game.

grumble of the veteran fans who wish there was more pugnacity in the game. If not between clubs, then between men. The battles of Shires and Spohrer, Wilson and Hornsby, and the static between Walter Johnson and Fred Marberry and Bump Hadley provide that personal note which might be lost in the mechanism of pitching, fielding and hitting.

As for the supposed tiff between Grimes and Hornsby, the Rajah doesn't remember it. So those who are looking for sparks in the Cub gap, with Grimes substituted for Wilson, are probably doomed to disappointment.

MOTHER NATURE Prepares This Laxative For You

THE Laxative Qualities of Thedford's Black-Draught were put into It in Mother Nature's laboratory. The plants from which it is made come up from seeds, and grow from the ground, just like the garden vegetables and fruits you eat at every meal.

The leaves and roots from which Black-Draught is made are gathered, selected and dried, then finely ground so that your digestive system can easily and naturally extract the medicine which grew in the plants. You get the medicine this way just as you get the energy you need from the food you eat. . . No mineral drugs. . . No synthetic chemicals. . . Just natural, active medicine to tone up the intestines when they are sluggish or constipated. . . A purely vegetable laxative to loosen up clogged waste matter - masses of soured food material that your system cannot use. Black-Draught stimulates a movement that loosens and moves along the waste matter you want to get rid of.

Then naturally you feel better when the souring waste matter is thrown out. When the "dam" is opened, bowel movements can be easy and regular again. That better feeling! Black-Draught has helped you.

And remember, during these times, as through years and years before, Black-Draught is not an expensive laxative. Yet it is good enough for anybody, and so economical that everybody can better afford to buy it and keep it ready for use when needed. Big families, little families, single men and single women, thousands and thousands of them, prefer and use Thedford's Black-Draught.

Scholarship Fund

The announcement that the scholarship fund is to receive 10 per cent of the proceeds of the English course being offered through the department of education of Fifth District of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, makes it of interest to every club in the district. Mrs. John F. McDougald, the president, urges that each club interest its members in the registration which is open to the public. There is constructive service in directing persons desiring to know intelligently "what is correct, and why," to the opportunity of securing that specific information which will give them the ease and assurance to be desired. The text to be used in the course is the Miller System of Correct Enlish, edited by the National Service Bureau, of Boston, organizers of adult classes. Student of all grades and all ages can follow this course with ease, for it begins with the fundamentals of grammar and rhetoric, one step leading to the next, and is so comprehensive that each lesson gives something to every student. "The Cautions," or short cuts, to avoid mistakes and the drills in correct pronunciations are of value to every one. Since there are no individual recitations or examinations, there is nothing "school-rroomish" in the classes.

Classes will be held at the Atlanta To Receive Percentage the

To accommodate clubwomen and business people, there will be two classes, one in the morning at 10:30 o'clock, and one in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. The tuition will be $12 covering instruction, and the text compiled in a loose-leaf folder. Those interested to know more about the course are invited to attend the classes Tuesday, and to take part in a self-test which is a sort of game. Registrations will be taken, the texts distributed, and the lesson assigned for Friday, Call the chairman, Mrs. Tom Brooke, Hemlock 4610, for further information concerning the course.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution. DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

I am married to a man I love dearly and he seems to love me.

After we had been married several months I learned that he had been married and divorced. I am an affectionate, confiding wife and do not nag or throw anything up to him, so I deserve his confidence, but he will not open his heart to me about this matter. When I ask him to explain the thing to me he replies, "I can't bear to talk about it." Is it because he still loves her that he will not explain? It would be easier to hear the truth from him than from an outsider. LOVING WIFE.

ANSWER:

My guess would be that his reticence is due to his guilty part in the divorce. The thing that puzzles me is that any woman would marry a man without looking at the license. It is required by the state that a man shall say on that license whether he has ever been married before and whether or not he has been divorced. He has the coll the state but despit have to tall his wife. to tell the state, but doesn't have to tell his wife. Nothing is more discouraging to a wife than to come up against a hard core in her husband's heart, one that she cannot penetrate. Patience, gentleness and tender sympathy are weapons by which a woman gains access to the innermost recesses of her husband's life. But how hard to exercise them when one has been deceived, and be-

Take this piece of advice: Don't discuss your husband's affairs, past or present, with anybody. Nobody should feel free to come to you with tales of his former life and any further outside interference might be disastrous. The divorce is a matter between you and him. If he is the proper sort, he will acquaint you with the facts. If he is not the proper sort, outsiders can't Certainly you are entitled to know the whole truth and there is a simple way to arrive at it, without the humiliating experience of hearing it from the lips of outsiders. The facts in connection with every divorce are a matter of record in the court where the divorce was granted. You may have access to such records for the asking and in the asking you will sacrifice neither dignity nor delicacy.

What the Markets Did.

NEW YORK, March 15 .- (A)-Selling pressure relaxed in the stock today, and there was a late recovery which reduced or eliminated earlier losses. Gains and losses were so evenly distributed at the close that the final Standard Statistics-Associated Press

A purely technical interpretation of the market's action suggests that the main upward trend has been broken and that somewhat lower prices are indicated.

The view is held in some speculative circles that another major reaction is in the making, which would imply a large volume of liquidation. However, we see no prospect of such liquidation because of the basic improvement in the banking situation. We would suggest the purchase of sound securities on a scale down during any period of weakness. ATLANTA SPOT COTTON.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The market sustained losses of 4 to 8 points compared with the previous close under further professional pressure, some selling by Liverpool and New Orleans and more or less liquidation influenced by the poor tone of securities and easier ruling of grains and wool. In the late trading, however, it not only recovered all of this loss but ended the session at the best of the day and 1 to 5 points met higher. Exports thus far this season are nearly 1,000,000 bales ahead of this date last year. Action of the market encourages us in the belief that the line of least resistance is upward.

October contracts sold off from 7.28 to 7.20, making new low ground for the movement and net declines of about 4 to 8 points on the active months, but these prices seemed to attract an increased demand from the trade, causing a general rally.

All active positions sold at new highs for the day on this late advance, with October selling at 7.29 or about 9 points up from the lowest. Closing quotations were within a point or two of the best.

A private report estimated ginnings for the season at 16,461,454 bales and stated that a partial survey of planting intentions pointed to a decrease of about 12 per cent in acreage. New York Cotton Exchange service placed the world's consumption of American cotton for the first half of the season at 6,550,000 bales, or 153,000 bales above their preliminary estimate.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Looking back at yesterday's market and comparing the high yesterday with the low of today there has been a downward move of approximately 20 points, During this down trend, a very large quantity of cotton was taken out of the market by the trade. This was noticeable on—the opening this morning as price fixing from abroad, coupled with ofher trade buying orders, prevented the market from, meeting the full Liverpool decline. In view of the fact that saccurities were easier as well as wheat, cotton did remarkably well. The price at which it held most of the day was very slightly under last night's closing figures. We have, therefore, had technical adjustment in the market. Although it could ease some further we believe it good policy to take advantage of these setbacks on which to buy cotton. # CURB SHARES SAG IN DULL SESSION

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER.

NEW YORK, March 15.—(P)—The curb market developed a slightly heavy tone in the afternoon trading today, after holding fairly steady during the forepart of the session.

The record of the session.

The pace of trading slackened, however, and the heaviness appeared to be largely in sympathy with the big board. Turnover was roughly 130,000 shares, off 20,000 from yesterday.

Oils sagged appreciably, coincident with report of increased crude production in east Texas. Electric Bond & Share was well supported in the utility division, closing at 8, up 1-8.

Some of the foreign issues firmed. Ford, Ltd.. was steady in quiet trading. An effort to bid up gold mining issues was attended with little success. Industrials generally were dull. Aluminum Company lost a fraction.

Prince Komodoflorensal greeted him warmly and looked a trifle surprised at the leafy branch that the ape-man carried across one

"What news?" asked Tarzan. "I have just sent a messenger to the King," replied the Prince, "re-porting that our scouts have come in touch with those of the enemy. One warrior managed to pene-trate to the summit of the Hill of Gartolas where he saw the entire main body of the enemy forming for attack. He reports 30,000 of them." Ska, the vulture, perched upon the horn of Gobru, the dead buffalo, became suddenly aware of a movement in a near-by thicket. Sabor, the lioness, emerged from the foliage and walked slowly toward him. Ska was not terrified. He crouched to spring upward, extending his great wings to aid him in taking off. But Ska never rose. As he tried to do so, something pulled suddenly upon his neck and held him down. Scrambling to his feet, violently this time, he strove to fly away.

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The hateful thing that had been dangling about his neck for so long was holding him to earth. The swinging loop of Tarzan's golden chain had caught about the buffalo's horn. Ska was trapped. He struggled, beating his wings. Sabor stopped to regard his wild antics. After a moment's watching she slunk back into the underbrush, turning once to see if Ska was pursuing. But Ska was doomed. Never more would he pursue anything!

Successful Defensive Bidding.

Generally when one Dbl. side has most of the honor strength, they have long suits, enter the bidding only with the hope of accepting a smaller, penalty than the game or Slam equivalent in the hands adversely held. WASHINGTON, March 15.—(P)—
Higher hurdles for the controversial manufacturers' sales tax were raised today in the house.

Concerted efforts in both parties to organize in opposition to the 2.25 per cent levy began and at the same time the American Federation of Labor and the National Grange said they were against the proposal.

A meeting to form a democratic anti-sales tax bloc was called for tomorrow night. Republican independents plan to assemble soon for a like purpose.
